Volume XX, Issue X, 20XX | ISSN 1821-9853 (Print) | ISSN 2665-0584 (Online)

Tengeru Community Development Journal

OPEN ACCESS

RESEARCH ARTICLE

Type or Paste the Title of Your Manuscript Here (No More Than 20 Words)

First Name Surname[a,*], First Name Surname[b]

[a] Department/School, University/Institute, Postal Address, City, Country

[b] Department/School, University/Institute, Postal Address, City, Country

ORCID: First Name Surname https://orcid.org/xxxx-xxxx-xxxx-xxxx; First Name Surname https://orcid.org/xxxx-xxxx-xxxx-xxxx

ARTICLE INFO

Article history:
Received dd Month yyyy
Received in revised form dd Month yyyy
Accepted dd Month yyyy
Published dd Month yyyy

Keywords:
Keyword one
Keyword two
Keyword three
Keyword four
Keyword five
(4–6 keywords; capitalise first letter only)

DOI:

[Assigned by the journal]

ABSTRACT

Type or paste your abstract here as prescribed by the journal's instructions for authors (150–250 words). The abstract must include the following elements:
Purpose: state the aim of the study.
Design/methodology/approach: summarise how the study was carried out.
Findings: summarise the main results.
Research limitations/implications: note the key limitations and implications for research.
Practical implications: state what the findings mean for practice or policy.
Guidelines: word count 3,000–5,000 words (excluding abstract and references); abstract 150–250 words; references 15–40 entries, which should be recent; tables and figures limited to 4.

1. Introduction

The introduction should include the paper's purpose, a short, relevant literature review, and a clear statement about the paper's aim. Type or paste your text here using the Body Text style.
Paragraph: use this style when you begin a new paragraph. There is no space between a heading and the first paragraph that follows it. Use the styles already set in this template from the abstract through to the references.
Cite sources in the text using the Harvard author–date style, for example (Surname, 2024) or Surname (2024).

[Insert Figure 1 here]

Fig. 1. Type your caption here. Obtain permission and include the acknowledgement required by the copyright holder if a figure is reproduced from another source.

2. Methodology

The methods used should be described in enough detail to allow replication of the procedures. Reasons for the selection of methods should also be included in this section. Include sample sizes, mode of observations and procedures. Methods already published should be referenced.

2.1. Heading 2: use this style for level two headings

Type or paste your text here.

2.2. Heading 2: use this style for level two headings

Heading 3: use italics for level three headings. Heading 4: create the heading in italics and run the text on after the punctuation mark.

Table 1 Type your table title here (the caption precedes the table). Obtain permission and include the acknowledgement required by the copyright holder if a table is reproduced from another source.

Column heading	Column heading
Row label	Data
Row label	Data
Row label	Data

3. Results and Discussion

Results: include text, figures, tables or other graphics. Do not duplicate data presented in tables within the text.
Discussion: explore the practical or theoretical implications of your findings. Avoid extensive citations and discussion of published literature. Report whether the hypothesis was supported or rejected.

* Corresponding author. E-mail: corresponding.author@institution.ac.tz

How to cite: Surname, I. & Surname, I. (Year). Title of the manuscript. Tengeru Community Development Journal, XX(X): xx–xx.

© 20XX The Author(s). Published in the Tengeru Community Development Journal. This is an open access article under the CC BY-SA 4.0 licence (creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0).

3.1. Heading 2: use this style for level two headings

Type or paste your text here. Indent quotations of over 40 words, or participant quotations, as shown below.

> "Indent quotations of over 40 words or as needed using this quotation style."

3.2. Limitations

Acknowledge the limitations of the study under a separate sub-heading.

4. Conclusions and Recommendations

Your conclusions should be directly supported by the data that you present. Avoid making generalised conclusions that your research has not substantiated.

Recommendations should follow from the findings and be specific to the policy, practice or research context of the study.

Declarations

Acknowledgements

[Acknowledge individuals or organisations who contributed but do not meet authorship criteria. Avoid identifying any of the authors in the acknowledgements before peer review.]

Author contributions

[A.B.: conceptualisation, methodology, formal analysis, writing—original draft. C.D.: investigation, data curation, writing—review and editing, supervision.] [Edit to reflect actual roles.] All authors reviewed and approved the final manuscript.

Funding

[State the funder and grant number, or: The authors received no specific funding for this work.]

Data availability

[The data that support the findings of this study are available from the corresponding author on reasonable request. / State where the data can be accessed, or why they cannot be shared.]

Ethics approval and consent to participate

[If the study involved human participants: name of the ethics committee or institution that granted approval, with reference number and date, and a statement that informed consent was obtained. Otherwise: Not applicable.]

Consent for publication

[Not applicable. / Participants consented to the publication of anonymised data or quotations.]

Competing interests

[The authors declare no competing interests.]

Use of generative AI

[No generative AI tools were used in the preparation of this manuscript. / Generative AI (tool name and version) was used for (specify purpose, e.g., language editing). The authors reviewed and edited all output and take full responsibility for the content of the publication.]

Open access

This article is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International Licence (CC BY-SA 4.0), which permits use, sharing, adaptation, distribution and reproduction in any medium or format, provided appropriate credit is given to the original authors and the source, a link to the licence is provided, and any changes are indicated. Adapted material must be distributed under the same licence. To view a copy of this licence, visit creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0.

References

Use the Harvard author–date referencing style consistently throughout the manuscript. List all cited sources alphabetically by the first author's surname. Include DOIs or stable URLs where available. In-text citations: (Surname, 2024); Surname (2024); (Surname and Surname, 2024); (Surname et al., 2024). For direct quotations, provide a page number, e.g., (Surname, 2024, p. 15).

Book: Surname, Initial(s). (Year) Title of book. Place of publication: Publisher.

Journal article: Surname, Initial(s). and Surname, Initial(s). (Year) 'Title of article', Title of Journal, volume(issue), pp. xx–xx. doi: DOI.

Website: Author/Organisation (Year) Title of webpage. Available at: URL (Accessed: Day Month Year).

Newspaper article: Surname, Initial(s). (Year) 'Title of article', Newspaper Name, Day Month. Available at: URL (Accessed: Day Month Year).

Online video: Creator/Organisation (Year) Title of video [Video]. Platform. Available at: URL (Accessed: Day Month Year).

Dictionary entry: Organisation (Year) 'Term', Title of dictionary. Available at: URL (Accessed: Day Month Year).